

We're looking for a student to join our team for a 3 month Digital Marketing Internship!

FEAST Global uniquely matches premium food producers to high value culinary buyers, so they can achieve their full potential together. We are pioneering a movement that unites best-in-class food producers with the culinary world's top buyers, and you can be a part of it!

As a FEAST Global intern, you will have the opportunity to work closely with our team of experienced professionals who are passionate about connecting people on a global scale. They will provide you with valuable feedback and guidance to help develop your skills and prepare for your future. Expect to work on projects that align with your field of study and career goals and will enable you to gain skills and develop your portfolio in a meaningful way.

APPLICANTS SHOULD BE:

- Intensely curious, eager to learn, and willing to ask questions
- Attentive to details and committed to producing excellent work
- Eager to contribute to the FEAST Global team and help work towards company goals
- Actively enrolled in a college or university, as a rising junior or senior studying Marketing, Graphic Design, or a similar field of study. Your role as an intern will be to assist in creating digital marketing content for FEAST Global's social media and other marketing platforms.

This is a part-time internship open for Fall, Spring, or Summer semesters. Our close-knit team is composed of remote employees from around the world, but some in-person work is available if you are located in the greater Jackson, Mississippi OR on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Internship extensions are possible with superior performance.

To apply, send a resume and cover letter to Marianna Chapman at mc@feastglobal.com by August 7th.
